

C

The figure consists of three panels illustrating the evolution of a fractal curve. The first panel shows a simple red line segment with black endpoints. The second panel shows the red segment replaced by a more complex, self-similar fractal structure. The third panel shows the entire structure, including the blue segment, becoming highly complex and self-similar.

Wiggle Island

